

Xxxx is placed in XXXX and the capital city is called XXXX. It is the seventh biggest country in the world to the surface, and the population is the second largest in the world! XXXX's population consists of approximately 850 million people. If you compare that to Sweden's population of about 9 million you get an idea of the country's size. You also get an idea of how crowded it must be considering the fact that Sweden's population per square miles is about 55 when XXXX's population density is about 260 people on the same surface.

One of XXXX's main exports is cotton. XXXX is the world's third largest cotton producers.

Another product that XXXX is known for is film. XXXX is the name of the film industry in XXXX (formerly known as XXXX), XXXX. Together with other film industries in XXXX it is thought to be the largest in the world, based on the amount of movies produced; which is about 900 per year! The language spoken in the movies is generally XXXX, and more often than not, the movies are musicals.

The national and most common language in XXXX is XXXX. In fact, it is one of the world's largest languages! Besides XXXX, the people in XXXX speak English and many other languages.

The reason why the people in XXXX speak English as an official language is because of the British Empire's conquest in the 1800s. The country declared its independence in 1947, after being under the power of the British Empire for almost 100 years.

XXXX's National Anthem is called XXXX. The song was written by Nobel laureate Rabindranath Tagore and sung publicly for the first time in 1911, while still under the power of the Queen of Britain.

In 1947, in the year of declaring independence, XXXX, who was an important figure of the XXXXn independence movement, promoting non-violence, became the first real leader of XXXX. Twelve elected presidents later; today XXXX has a female president named XXXX (born 1934). She is the first woman to hold the office.
